Our Centennial Needs our Immediate Attention

The primary election is now over—the votes have been counted and the will of the people has expressed itself in figures on the tally sheets.

And now that May 26 has passed, the people of Fulton will need to turn their immediate attention to the forthcoming Centennial of the Twin Cities—a scant two months away.

There is considerable work to be done on the Centennial by the various committees, and much of this work has been put off for one reason or other. Organization has been slow, Committees have been hard to get together, and some phases of planning are behind schedule.

But now we've got to get to work if we are going to have a good Centennial. We hope that as much energy and enthusiasm is turned to its behalf as has been manifested in the torrid primary campaign, and if it is, we will have something that we will be proud of.

A News Career Offers Growing Opportunities

High school and college students, are greatly underestimating the career opportunities which exist on the reporting and editing staffs of the nation's newspapers.

This is a major conclusion of a report by Alvin E. Austin, who took a year's leave from his post as head of North Dakota University's journalism department to investigate news staff recruitment problems—and solutions—across the nation.

One of his surveys, of 135 large and small daily papers, disclosed that over 67% consider "shortage of new manpower" to be one of their leading problems. Pay for beginning reporters just out of college is rising rather rapidly; it now averages around $73 weekly and ranges above $100. Slightly more than half the newspapers surveyed are paying some top experienced news men more than $10,000 annually.

"Clearly, newspaper salaries have been improving faster than information about the gains has been getting around," declares the Austin report. It blames the majority of newspapers themselves for a widespread failure to inform young people of the opportunities on news staffs. And it emphasizes that on good newspapers these rewards include "intangibles" of the profession: excitement, integrity, prestige—a way of life.

"To the extent that journalists have succeeded in tearing down the traditional stereotype of the hard-drinking, bullet-dodging star reporter (still purveyed by movies and television) they seem to have left only the wrong impression that newspapering is a dull and routine job," says the Austin report.

The greatest pool of talent for newspaper staffs of the future is to be found today on college and school papers, the study concludes. It suggests most student editors would welcome volunteer professional advice on putting out their publications, and that association with the pros could lead many young people to choose a journalistic career.

Newspapers confront a mild dilemma, Professor Austin notes, because their hiring concentrates on smart college students—but impressions about careers are pretty well fixed in most youngsters' minds several years before they graduate from college. This means the papers must capture imaginations at high school age, if not before.

As evidence that newspapers have largely failed to do this, he shows that staffs of high school newspapers (some 30,000 of them, with $20 million annual production costs) have been largely abandoned by the boy students, just within the last few years. He quotes approvingly the remark of a professional newspaperman: "High school boys are not convinced the profession is one with a future, and won't want to waste time on it. If we can convince them of its opportunities, they will return to the fold."

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Why Pray For The Dead

By Rev. Thomas J. Riley, author of "Theology for Everyman".

On Memorial Day 1958 in the Arlington National Cemetery the bodies of two more "unknown soldiers" were interred at the monument for the World War I hero "known only to God." At such ceremonies we honor our war dead and offer prayers for those courageous souls who died in order that we might live. Since these public tributes have become part of our American tradition, it will help us appreciate Memorial Day services more if we understand just why we pray for the dead.

The answer to the question, "Why pray for the dead?" will be found in the one word, "love". We cherish the memory of the dead because we love them, and we are moved by our love for them to pray for their souls. We love them first of all because of what they have done to give glory to God and because they have merited eternal life by their obedience to the laws of God.

BUT we also pray for the souls of our departed relatives and friends because we are realistically conscious of

Have you noticed that Edmund Khourie has shaved off his goatee? All he has left in his mustache, now. Edmund is our star newsboy and he also has a thriving popcorn business down on Lake Street.

There's never a dull moment at our house these days. There is always a gang of women and all they do is sew—all except me, that it. It's those Centennial dresses! At this writing, my dress hasn't been made, but you just wait and see, I'm get one before Centennial Week gets here, I bet! If you have any Centennial dress and bonnet problems, join the crowd—come on over. Mother gives out with the help and advice, while I serve the coffee. If we're not home when you arrive, just go on in and make yourself at home. The TV is in the living room—the first door to your right, the sewing room is in the dining room, and you'll find coffee back in the breakfast room. We're up until midnight each night. Drop by any time. We're always glad to have you.

In the early days citizens of Fulton didn't enjoy the comforts and conveniences we have today. Most of the cooking was done at open fireplaces. Paper tapers were used for lighting pipes, etc. Matches were scarce articles with sulphur heads. Soap for washing purposes was made from wood ashes placed in a barrel hopper and water poured over the ashes which leaked through slowly into a vessel. The lye water was placed into a large cooking kettle and some grease was added. After cooking for awhile, it was cooled and congealed; sometimes used in a liquid state.

Toilet and manufactured bar soap was only used by those who couldn't make their own cleanser.

Bonnets were worn with dignity by the girls. Nearly everybody rode horses and mules, especially those who didn't have a buggy or wagon.

Log houses covered with split shingles were built for residences by those who couldn't get saw-mill lumber conveniently. The old oak bucket and gourd dipper were used extensively. The bearded doctor riding his horse or mule with his saddle bags well filled with medicine thrown across the saddle, administered to the sick night and day, oftentimes through sleet and snow.

The powder horn was a useful article. The guns used then are relics today. The old rail fence is only a memory of by-gone days. Only a few forest trees stand, sentinels to remind us where West Fulton with its beautiful residences and concrete streets are today, was a dense forest of sturdy oaks and hickory. Harris Fork Creek has been with us always. Hoopskirts and bustles were popular during grandmother's younger days. So were trundle-beds. The town well furnished water for the community.

Gaiters and brogan shoes were popular for men and red-top boots with brass toes for children. It was characteristic of the men to grow beards. Walking was a healthful exercise.

Civil War yarns were interesting. Children went barefoot during the summer. All the citizens were public-spirited. The first walks were made of plank. The first bridges of logs. The first streets mud and dust. A round trip to Hickman, the county seat, was an all-day journey. The pioneer experienced many privations unknown to us. They didn't have fine schools, libraries and other cultural blessings of our time, but learned the beneficial lessons of industry, frugality, honesty and faithful citizenship.

Good highways have blotted out the old roads. Automobiles have taken the place of the surrey, huggie-tights, rubber-tired buggy, express and jolt-wagon. The radio has brought voices from the outside world, news, music, church and speeches. These things have almost revolutionized the country in the last decade.

We do not hear of bean stringing, apple peeling, corn husking, house "raisings," log rolling (scarcely ever heard of any more), workings (where every neighbor goes in to help a farmer out of the weeds in his crop), wood choppings, clearings, fencings, railsplitting—even the "Children's Day" with dinner-ground—are not plentiful as they used to be. We do not have the big spring "revivals" which the whole district attends as we used to have. The square dance goes on to some extent but not as it used to be. The "Big Apple" is now the rage. Cane strappings and gay parties are not plentiful over the neighborhoods as they used to be. Any of the old timers

Notify State On Address Change

Motorists should keep the State Department of Public Safety informed of their correct address to ensure receipt of driver's licenses, Commissioner Don Sturgill says.

Applications for the licenses are made at circuit clerk's offices and forwarded to the department at Frankfort. The agency then mails the licenses to applicants.

Until arrival of license, the motorist drives with a temporary permit. If the applicant changes address before receiving the license, he should notify the department at once.

can tell you this. We are living in a fast age when changes are made over night. Even the cigarette in some instances is replacing the long stemmed clay pipe.

The house with the old-fashioned parlor and wooden beds with good feather bed-ticks is gradually disappearing. How many of you remember the old-fashioned parlor or "the best room?" This was the place the "courtin'" was done. How well do I remember the place I had to leave at nine o'clock, not a minute after for I heard the shoe heel tap above us on the upstairs floor the note of warning. It seems to me these things are passing, passing gradually as a morning mist before the sun.

Southern Bell And CWA Agree To New Contract On May 21

The Southern Bell Telephone Company and the Communications Workers of America agreed to a new contract Thursday, May 21. It covers an initial period of 15 months and will continue in effect until either party gives sixty days' notice of termination.

Bargaining on contract changes has been in progress in Atlanta since April 28. Subject to ratification by CWA membership, the agreement becomes effective May 22. The contract affects more than 50,000 employees over the South, including approximately 3,500 in Kentucky.

Included is a wage increase ranging from $1.00 to $5.00 per week, depending on the job and town classification of the employee.

While granting wage increases which Southern Bell described as "Necessary to keep our employees' pay in line with that of others," the company did not grant a number of demands made by the Union, such as a shorter work week for night work and broadening of the scope of certain seniority rights. Other items agreed on included reclassification of a number of towns for pay purposes. The company declined to grant longer vacations as proposed by the union for 10 and 15 year employees, but agreed to four weeks for employees of 30 years' service or more.

Of the wage increases and the overall contract, W. A. Thompson, Personnel Vice President, said, "The results of the recent wage surveys made a wage increase necessary in order to keep our employees' pay in line. Southern Bell makes regular wage surveys to guide it in keeping our employees' pay in line with pay in communities where they work and live, which is our policy. The new contract is fair and just to all concerned employees, the telephone using public and the owners of the business."

"Cost of the new contract to the company will be about $9,000,000 annually, or about $660,000 dollars in Kentucky."

Powell Writes Of Twin Cities' Centennial Celebration Coming Up

Bill Powell, Executive News Editor of the Sun-Democrat, had the following to say about Fulton-South Fulton's Centennial celebration coming up in July, in his column last Friday.

I got nostalgic last week-end in Fulton. Everywhere I looked I saw men with beards and women in pretty, oldstyle dresses. I vividly remember 1956 in Paducah when we staged our Centennial with so much feeling and pride.

Fulton will celebrate its 100th anniversary July 19-24. The people are warming up to it; I don't believe they are ready yet, but they will be, and Fulton will have a grand time.

Sunday, Hugh Fly and his wife, Ann, whom we visited for the week-end, led the way to Sunday School.

There, in a class of 30 or 40 men, I was surrounded by 1880ish beards. The teacher, remarkably capable Jim Warren, sported a bristling beard. So did 10 or 15 men in front of me and that many in back of me.

I felt like I did that 1956 summer when I went all the way through the Centennial, steering clear somehow of the Keystone Kops, without even a trace of a beard.

On the street, in shops and on construction jobs you also see beards right and left. They are not uncomfortable yet, but I know they will be when the weather gets unbearably hot in what promises to be a dry, scorching summer.

Mayor Nelson Tripp is doing well with his beard. So is Clyde Williams and newspaper publishers Paul Westpheling and Vyrion Mitchell.

And so are Louis (Nubbin) Bissell, Wilburn Allen, Ted Roach, Arch Huddleston, Glenn Williams, Buster Teague and a lot of others.

The women have an extremely strong Centennial organization. There are 30 chapters of the Centennial Belles, women dedicated to making the observance a whopping success.

The women will get a chance

Dr. Hunter Is Commencement Speaker Here

"The Strangest Secret" was the subject of the address by Dr. Donald B. Hunter, Associate Professor of Education, at Murray State College, Murray, Ky., at the Fulton Junior High School Commencement Exercises Wednesday, May 19, at 8 p. m. at Carr Auditorium.

Dr. Hunter received his B. S. Degree and his Master's from Mississippi Southern College. He received his Doctor's degree from Indiana University. Dr. Hunter taught in the public schools in Mississippi for three years and has been at Murray College for two years.

The speaker was introduced by Supt. W. L. Holland. Principal Ray Fleming introduced Dr. Ward Bushart, Chairman of the Board of Education, who presented the diplomas to the fifty-seven graduates.

Post Commander J. D. Simpson of the American Legion presented the Legion awards to the outstanding boy and girl in the class. These medals have been given annually since 1929.

Winners of the American Legion Awards were Mary Adella Bondurant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bondurant, and Stanley Jeffress, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Jeffress.

Rev. Joseph Leggett gave the invocation and the benediction.

A piano solo was given by Martha DeMyer, who played "Prelude in D Minor" by Porter. Bob Anderson played a piano number entitled "Song" from "The Sea Pieces" by Edward MacDowell. The Girl's Glee Club sang two numbers—"The Lord's Prayer" by Malotta, and "The Surrey with the Fringe on Top" by Rodgers and Hammerstein. Mary Bondurant was the accompanist.

Mrs. A. R. Roman played the professional and recessional.

Roy Coble Is Sentenced To Fifteen Years

Roy Coble, Hickman County County Negro tenant farmer, was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter in Hickman Circuit Court at Clinton Tuesday.

The jury set his punishment at 15 years in the state penitentiary. Coble was indicted for murder last February in connection with the death of his 2½-year-old step-child.

The child, showing signs of severe beatings, was pronounced dead on arrival at Clinton-Hickto show off their pretty oldstyle dresses May 18—next Monday night.

They'll gather at Hugh Fly's Derby Restaurant at the intersection of Highway 51 (by-pass) and Highway 45 and put on a Centennial style show free to the public.

Each chapter will put on representative in the contest and many for the first time.

The women will come to the meeting place in old cars rounded up by Hugh, who really has his heart in the Centennial.

They'll parade in a room permanently decorated with many interesting relics of the War Between the States and souvenirs from other eras.

Fulton, I believe, is determined to put on a stand-out Centennial. And when that town of 8,000 gets determined, you'd better stand aside.

Wanda Outland Named Delegate To Girls State

Wanda Outland, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Willey Jr. of Route 2, Fulton, has been chosen to represent South Fulton High school as a delegate to Volunteer Girls State, May 31-June 7, at Middle Tennessee State college in Murfreesboro.

Mrs. Waymon Luten, chairman of the Girls State committee of the ladies auxiliary, the American Legion, made the announcement of Miss Outland's selection today. The delegate is sponsored by the South Fulton Parent-Teacher Assn.

Named as alternate delegate from the school was Jerilyn Colley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Colley of Route 5, Fulton.

Miss Outland is a member of the Beta club and an active member of her class. She was named attendant to the football queen during her freshman year in high school when she was also vice president of her Future Homemakers of America class. She was president of the FHA chapter as a sophomore. She is also a member of the varsity basketball team.

Miss Outland this year was selected by the senior class as one of the graduation usherettes.

The alternate delegate is an honor student and a Beta club member and was a member of a three-girl committee which planned the 1959 junior-senior banquet.

Miss Colley has been active in her FHA chapter and has held office in her FHA classes. She is the current chapter vice president. For the past two years she has represented her chapter as a delegate to the state conventions in Nashville. She recently received her State Homemakers degree.

Miss Colley is a member of the Oak Grove Church of Christ and plays an active role in church affairs.

man Hospital last November 23. Coble was arrested the same day and has been in jail at Clinton since.

Coble's wife, Helen, was indicted on a charge of aiding and abetting in the murder but her trial has been postponed because of the illness of her attorney.

The trial was completed Tuesday and the jury deliberated 45 minutes before returning a verdict.

IT'S A BOY!

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hicks, Route 1, Crutchfield, are the proud parents of a 6 lbs, 8 ounce daughter born at 5:42 a. m., May 21, 1959 at the Jones hospital.

Livestock HEALTH UNITS

Prepared by American Foundation for Animal Health

Farmers who raise hogs are becoming more concerned every year over the spread of erysipelas.

They do so with reason, because this swine crippler and killer has now climbed to second place in the nation as a top contagious disease of hogs... second only to cholera. It is costing farmers a booming total of over $24,000,000 a year at the present time.

Enlarged joints are characteristic of one form of swine erysipelas.

The bacterium which causes erysipelas is really a tough one. It resists smoking, freezing, drying, and even pickling. It can linger in the soil for a long time, and then cause fresh outbreaks. It is often introduced into a clean herd by "carrier" pigs which harbor the germ without being sick themselves.

Hog producers experience their worst erysipelas losses from the acute form of the disease. This type of outbreak strikes suddenly. Pigs tend to remain in their nests, squeal if forced to move, walk on tiptoe, have poor appetites, and may vomit. Sometimes red or purple blotches and bumps appear on the skin. One of the confusing problems is that some of these symptoms also resemble cholera or other diseases, and it takes careful study by a veterinarian to make sure which condition has to be dealt with.

Another form, chronic erysipelas, produces arthritis, sometimes sloughing of the skin, swollen joints, and causes economic losses due to unthriftiness and stunting.

There are several steps to be taken against erysipelas. These include: 1) having pigs vaccinated in areas where the disease has been a problem; 2) isolating all newly-purchased animals for at least 30 days, to give latent disease a chance to show up.

It is also worth noting that the germs causing erysipelas can affect human beings, and some farmers and veterinarians working with swine have contracted a painful form of the disease known as human "erysipeloid".

500,000 Telephone Installed At Owensboro Last Week

A milestone in Kentucky's communication growth and development took place in Owensboro last week when the Southern Bell Telephone Company installed its 500,000th telephone.

Local Manager Harold Wiley said the half million mark was reached in less than four years after the 400,000th instrument was installed in October 1955.

Telephone development in the state has grown at a fast pace in the last ten years. In May 1949 Southern Bell had just over 282,000 telephones.

Mr. Wiley said telephone growth here in Fulton contributed in reaching the 500,000 mark so soon. "In May 1949 there were

Initiated Into Epsilon Pi Tau

Ralph Puckett and Bob McCord, who are attending Murray State College, were initiated into the Epsilon Pi Tau fraternity at the annual Founder's Day banquet at Kenlake Hotel on May 21st.

The requirements for membership in the fraternity are high. Only about twenty percent of people in the Industrial Arts field are eligible to receive this honor.

The fraternity has grown from a small group of men to an organization embracing 68 chapters in 31 states and nations.

Epsilon Pi Tau has a three-fold purpose—to recognize skill; to promote social efficiency; and to foster, counsel, reward and circulate the results of research.

At the last meeting of the Industrial Arts Club of Murray State College, Mr. Puckett was elected president of the club. Mr. McCord was elected, publicity chairman to serve during the fall semester of 1959.

VOICE FROM OUTER SPACE. Rocketing through outer space, a satellite "goes on the air." Though you and I can't pick up this "voice," scientists at receiving stations are eagerly waiting for the messages. This communication from far beyond the earth is made possible by a remarkable invention—the transistor—developed through research by telephone people. It's the same tiny amplifier now being used in such everyday items as radios and hearing aids. They're also used in more and more new telephone equipment, and will play a big part in tomorrow's better telephone service.

CHEVY GIVES YOU 7 BIG BESTS!

Take it, not from us, but from the published opinions of outside, independent experts and from on-the-record facts and figures: Chevrolet gives you these 7 big bests over any other car in its field!

BEST ENGINE

Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price."

BEST ECONOMY

No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car.

BEST ROOM

Official dimensions reported to A.M.A. make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.7 inches wider than competitive cars.

BEST STYLE

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling. It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably '59 in every modern line."

BEST TRADE-IN

Check the figures in any official N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

BEST BRAKES

In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not? Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life.

BEST RIDE

You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But MOTOR TREND magazine expresses it this way: "...the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

Parishioners To Participate In Procession

The parishioners of St. Edward's Catholic Church will participate in the Annual Corpus Christi Procession for the Purchase Area to be held on Sunday, May 31st, 3:00 p. m. at the Fairgrounds in Mayfield, Kentucky.

They will join with Catholics from nine other parishes in the Purchase Area in the observance of the feast of Corpus Christi. CORPUS CHRISTI (meaning in Latin "Body of Christ") is a feast on the Thursday after Trinity Sunday, in honor of the Body and Blood of Christ, really present in the Most Holy Sacrament of the Eucharist. The feast was established by the Catholic Church in order to assist in making reparation for the sins committed against Our Lord in the Blessed Sacrament and to reanimate and revive the devotions of Christians toward the adorable Mystery. For the convenience of the people, the public observance is usually transferred to the Sunday following the feast.

St. Edward's Parish will hold ninth place in the procession following the parishioners of Sacred Heart Church of Hickman. Father Edward Tarrant, S. P. M., ass't Pastor, will be Subdeacon for the Benediction ceremonies.

The Celebrant is to be Bishop Francis R. Cotton, D. D., Bishop of the Owensboro diocese. However, if the Bishop is unable to attend, Father William Carroll, S. P. M., Pastor of Sacred Heart Parish-Hickman and St. Edward's Parish-Fulton, will act as Celebrant for the triple Benedictions.

The Fairgrounds at Mayfield are located on Highway No. 121 at the Northwest edge of Mayfield.

Periodical Cicada Due Now In Area

Kentucky's westernmost counties, the "Purchase" area, now are hosts to the remarkable insect known as the cicada, popularly called the "17-year locust."

Actually the insects are not of the locust family and they come every 13 or 17 years depending on the cicada race to which they belong. But the noise they make during their three to four weeks of life is prodigious.

Here's what to do, says J. G. Rodriguez, about the brood which now is emerging in Fulton, McCracken, Carlisle, Ballard, Graves, Marshall and Calloway counties, and possibly adjacent areas:

Use a new material called Sevin 50 W for control. This is safe to use for the operator but is very toxic to the cicadas or "locusts." One pound of actual Sevin 50 W per 100 gallons of water, or one level tablespoonful per gallon of water, makes a good spray. This will last about 14 days and two to three applications should be enough to control the cicadas during their short lifetime.

The cicada is a pest because the female cuts into small twigs of trees to lay eggs, killing the small branches. Nursery orchard and home plantings of trees suffer most from this egg-laying damage. When the eggs hatch, the "nymphs" drop to the ground and

County Officials To Receive Fees

Disbursement of commissions on fines and forfeitures assessed in Magistrate's Courts was authorized today by Orba F. Traylor, commissioner, State Department of Finance.

Commonwealth Attorneys' County Attorneys and Circuit Court Clerks in approximately 24 counties will be affected by the disbursement of money paid into the state treasury since June 20, 1958, Traylor said.

Such commissions have been held by the Department of Finance in a special suspense account because House Bill 229, passed by the 1958 General Assembly has been involved in litigation concerning its constitutionality.

The Attorney General in an opinion given May 18 said the State will suffer no loss by disbursing these commissions regardless of the outcome of the court cases involving House Bill 229.

Guided by the opinion of the Attorney General, the Department of Finance will pay, as provided by law, the claims of the county officers out of the current appropriations to the County Costs Budget Unit, Traylor said.

Scouts, Leaders Attend Camporal

More than 450 boys and leaders of the Four Rivers Council, Boy Scouts of America, gathered over Friday, Saturday and Sunday, May 15, 16 and 17, at the 400 acre Scout Reservation on Kentucky Lake for a "Camporal."

All men and boys camped in tents and took part in a program of competitive Scoutcraft events including fire building, axeman-ship, tent pitching and cooking. A five year tradition of rain during the Camporal was preserved when a light rain came up Sunday morning beginning about 5:00 a.m. and continuing intermittently through the morning. Worship services were conducted by the Reverend Mr. Cox, pastor of the Hardin Baptist Church, and Catholic Scouts and leaders went to Murray for Mass.

burrow into the soil. The young nymphs feed on the roots but damage is insignificant over a 13 or 17 year cycle.

The cicadas are a pest because of the tremendous noise the males make by rubbing their wings together. The females are mute, though, which caused the saying "Blessed are cicadas' lives, for they all have voiceless wives." oilFor!

Several School Children Win Badges In Antique Hunt Here

School children, who have won badges in the "Treasure Hunt" and have not received them as yet, may do so by stopping by the Centennial headquarters on Main Street, according to Mrs. Rodney Miller.

The "Treasure Hunt" under the direction of Louis Weeks, was held for the purpose of securing antiques for displays during the Centennial. The school children entering the contest, who secured the name and telephone number of four persons who would loan an antique item for display, received First Mate Badges, and those securing eight items got Buccaneer Captain Badges.

The children may still turn in lists to the Centennial office and receive a badge. If you don't have a blank, just list the name of the person who owns the antique item to be loaned and their telephone number on a piece of paper and turn it in.

Those receiving First Mate Badges are: Melody Ann Brundage, South Fulton; Cordelia Fields, Charles Robert Burrow, David Russell, Donnie Noles, Cindy Homra and Ann Lawson, all of Terry Norman.

Those winning Buccaneer Captain Badges are Brenda S. Gat-tis, Karen G. Fields, Pamela Ruth Greer, Charles Walker, Jr., Paula Howard, all of South Fulton; Bobby Larson Gregg Veneklasen and Phillip Cunningham, all of Terry Norman School.

Agriculture Club Field Day
Greatest Success

The Annual Field Day sponsored by the Murray State College Agriculture Club April 24 is reported by many as the most successful in history. To me the members of the Agriculture Club and the Agriculture Department Faculty are to be commended on another fine job. I believe it was the most efficient operation I have ever seen. Every student had a job and it was surprising to see all present and accounted for when work time started.

Can you imagine taking well over 600 FFA boys through the paces and never a bottle-neck. Everything seemed to fall in place like a puzzle you had memorized. Here is an idea of what each boy did during the day. First he registered with his class and instructor then he judged classes of the following livestock: Dairy cows, dairy heifers, beef heifers, beef cows, fat barrows, breeding gilts, and seed identification which consisted of many different varieties of seed. This was completed with lunch by 12:30 and we started giving reasons on the livestock planings.

The afternoon program consisted of some figures on calf raising which I gave and an interesting address on Profitable Milk Production for the Medium and Small farmer, given by Mr. C. A. Hilt, District Field man for the Pet Milk Co. of Bryan, Ohio. Mr. Hilt pointed out many facts concerning milk production that all farmers should have heard. He stressed the importance of the small dairyman and the stability of the manufactured milk market. We know the importance of dairying but sometimes we get confused when folks say big or get out. There are many conditions where a small dairyman can profit by staying small. Mr. Hilt pointed out facts where the need is for efficiency of operation, then if you have the land re-

Welfare Program Has New Leader

Obion County Judge Dan McKinnis announced Saturday appointment of Howell H. Carter, insurance company executive, as superintendent of the Obion County Surplus Commodity Distribution Program.

Mr. Carter succeeds Jack Hudgens who asked Obion County Court to relieve him of the position at the April term.

Mr. Carter said the principal distribution point will be at the Tom Stewart Airfield, east of Union City. The program will get under way in a few days, he said, after inactivity during the first three weeks of May.

Persons qualifying for assistance, Mr. Carter explained, in Districts Two, Three, Four, Seven, Eight, 10, 11 and 13, will pick up commodities at the airport. Those in Districts Nine, 14 and 15 will pick up allotments at the City Hall in Obion. The South Fulton City Hall will be headquarters for those in Districts One and 16, and the feed store in Hornbeak for those in Districts Five and 12. Residents of District Six will appear at the county garage in Troy. Commodities will be available at the airport Tuesday, Obion, Wednesday, South Fulton, Thursday, Hornbeak, Friday, and Troy, Saturday.

The Governor assured the dele-

Department will build the road.
The delegation was flown to Nashville through the courtesy of the Taylor Aero Service at Union City. They furnished the plane and pilot. Due to a storm, the plane made an emergency landing at Clarksville.

According to Dr. Connaughton
"I never was so glad to get my feet on the ground."

Drivers License Renewal Is Due

Kentucky motorists whose last name begin with letters in the L through Z portion of the alphabet must renew their driver's licenses during June or July.

State Safety Commissioner Don
S. Sturgill said circuit clerk's officers will begin accepting applications for 1959 drivers licenses renewals beginning June 1. Drivers in the L through Z alphabet bracket must apply for license renewal by July 31. Sturgill emphasized that the license application must be made personally.

Under the certified issuance setup all licenses are mailed to motiorists from the Kentucky Department of Public Safety in Frankfort after a records check. However license application must be made at the Circuit Clerks office of the county in which you reside, and cannot be made by a second party.

Renewal licenses issued this year to motorists in the L through Z group and original licenses issued to the L through Z drivers will expire during the drivers birth month in 1961.
